Fund the Arts More Creatively

Arts & culture funders of all sizes choose SmartSimple to deliver more impact with less. With over $7.5 billion granted using SmartSimple last year, we're helping empower grantmakers with the right mix of technology and dedicated support needed to elevate how they strengthen the arts economy – one community at a time.

smartsimple

Imagine a grants management system empowering you to oversee all your funding, constituents, and impact – in a way that molds to your processes.

Simpler collaboration
Easily tailor the roles and security permissions of all your users in just a few clicks, or grant controlled access to co-applicants and grant writers to review or work on active applications.

Get to really know your applicants
Support individual artists as well as arts organizations? Improve the grantseeker experience by enabling applicants to switch between applying as an individual or organization using intuitive, personalized portals.

Future-ready technology
Address the current and future requirements of your arts granting programs. SmartSimple is a completely configurable solution with built-in flexibility to adapt as your needs change at far less cost.

Bring your data to life
See how your grantmaking turns into real impact through powerful reporting and insightful dashboards, or take a closer look at all the activities you fund using interactive mapping technology.

We're confident handling digital media
SmartSimple comes with enhanced video streaming with robust IP protection. Video annotation allows your applicants to set cue points to the most important parts of their work – making it even easier for reviewers.

No restrictions in file types & sizes
SmartSimple offers the flexibility to handle any file of any size, meaning all your users can upload whatever they need for your team to access or review – without downloading a thing.
